

Current travel information

Information on the pilot strike

Last Update: 22 February 2010 10:40 CET

Due to the strike announced by the pilots union "Vereinigung Cockpit" (VC) from 22 February to 25 February 2010 Lufthansa flight operations are affected.

For Lufthansa, the passengers' well-being comes first. We will therefore do our utmost to reduce the impact for travelers.

Lufthansa has put together a special flight schedule that shows the flights that will be operated based on the information we have at the moment. Please check the special timetable for your departure date on a regular basis.

Download Special Timetable 22 February as of 22 Feb 10:40 CET

Download Special Timetable 23 February as of 22 Feb

Download Special Timetable 24 February as of 22 Feb

Download Special Timetable 25 February as of 22 Feb

Lufthansa will constantly adapt all bookings according to the most recent information available. Wherever possible passengers will be rebooked on alternative flights. Please check the current status of your bookings on a regular basis under

My Booking

Current flight information on the flight status always under Arrival & Departure

Please check the status of your flight shortly before departure

Answers to frequently asked questions you will find here:

FAQs

Lufthansa has implemented a toll free number for calls within Germany: 0800 / 8 50 60 70 where passengers receive information on their booking or rebook their flight. In other countries please refer to the local phone numbers. Customers may experience longer waiting times due to the extremely high volume of calls we are currently experiencing. We sincerely regret the inconveniences and hope for your understanding.

Please also use our online services

Current flight status: Arrival & Departure

Already rebooked?: View my booking
